Reviews

This type of publication is every thing and helped me seeking ahead and much more. It usually fails to charge too much. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

Excerpt: . . . 11 other some and we know that in terms of how we operate, there is consistency of view. As I listened to what each of you had to say, I thought about the differences in departments. How do you measure the museum per-formance and how do you measure a transportation program or the manufacturing program, which I think is a very good idea You are left in kind of a discovery area. Who do you talk to - who gets spo-ken to when these decisions are being reviewed or questions are being asked Who in the line of command typically gets talked with Do the employees get to respond Do the staff within these units get to respond, or is this strictly a management review Mr. J. I dont know how far down it gets. It is both agen-OHNSON cy and OMB, but I dont know how far down, if it gets down to the Forest Service person in whatever Western State. There are four basic areas of questioning in the PART that really are good questions that would apply to your form of business, my form of business, any kind of Federal program. Is there a clear, de-fensible purpose There are several questions related to that. Are there valid short-term and long-term goals Is the management sound or the management practices good And what are the results of the program relative to the goals Now, those are generic ques-tions...
