Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The University of Missouri Bulletin, Vol. 11 of 16: A Study of the Rural Schools of Saline County, Missouri The great development of Missouri schools in recent years has been confined, with few exceptions, to the schools of cities and towns. Altho there has been much favorable legislation, altho the State Department of Education has been competent and sympathetic, altho county superintendents have given their best efforts to the improvement of rural education, the rural schools have made comparatively little progress. To find why the rural schools have not made greater progress is one of the most important problems confronting the people of Missouri. The first step in solving this problem is to secure, with accuracy and detail, the facts of the situation. Accordingly, a movement has been started to study the rural schools of a number of counties of the State for the purpose of finding these facts. Because Saline County is representative of the better agricultural counties, its schools have been selected for the first study. As noted elsewhere, nothing given in this...
